HUSTON'S OBJECTIONS

He Says the Board of Health is Easy.

CLERK GROSSHANS' LITTLE BILL Causes a Display of Temper, Scotch and Otherwise, at the Regular Meeting of the Sanitary Authorities Last Night. Many More Births Than Deaths.

If anyone made a bet that the first meeting of the board of health held in two months would be a scorcher, he has won the money.

Last night the long delayed meeting was held. Mayor Gilbert, Health Officer King, City Physician Ogden and all the members of the board were present. After the minutes had been read and adopted the health officer's reports for the two months were accepted. They were as follows:

From Oct. 1 to Oct. 31. Births—males, 8; females, 9; white, 17. Deaths—males, 4; females, 7; white, 10. Cause of death—Typhoid fever, 1; diabetes, 1; pneumonia, 1; old age, 2; blood poison, 1; convulsion, 1; toxic gastritis, 1; still born, 1; inflammation of bowels, 1.

"As it has been passed by the city council that the alley back of Ravine street should be severed, I would like for the board to see that it is attended to before the weather gets worse. I have three cases of scarlet fever and one of diphtheria, all getting along nicely."

From Nov. 1 to Nov. 30. Births—males, 14; females, 12; white, 26. Deaths—males, 4; females, 6; white, 10. Cause of death—consumption, 2; Toxic Gastritis, 1; accident, 1; heart disease, 1; hemorrhage, 1; pneumonia, 2; rheumatism, 1; meningitis, 1. Permits issued—removal of dead animals, 6; to remove night soil, 8. Number of dead animals disposed of by health officer—dogs, 4; cats, 2.

"I have three cases of scarlet fever to report, all in East End, all doing well. One case reported last month is well and the house fumigated, otherwise the health of the city is good."

Then came the bills which have been collected during the weeks preceding the session. They had been O. K'd, and all was going lovely apparently, but one of the amounts was destined to cause a motion before it was disposed of. The bills were as follows: C. B. Ogden, M. D., $22.50; H. Chambers & Son, $23.75; Sarah C. Whitney, $2.96; News Review company, $6.25; Thomas Bridgett, $1; Otto Schmitzbauer, J. W. Griffith, $34; Otto Schmitzbauer, Peter Welch, $8.50; J. Coleman, $9; J. T. King, salary, $50; Frank E. Grosshans, salary, $14.

The subject of the run which passes through East End was brought up for consideration by the board. The claim was made that people persisted in dumping garbage in the stream, and that it would be better to make a sewer of it at once. It was considered especially dangerous to the health of East End people in the summer, and all seemed to believe that some remedy should be adopted before that time. Messrs. Purinton, Thomas, Kaufman and Doctor Ogden were appointed as a committee to examine the sanitary condition of the run and report to the board.

On motion of Mr. Purinton the board decided that the mayor should act at once in enforcing the ordinances against C. A. Hutchinson, against whom Health Officer King had filed a charge. Then someone moved an adjournment, but Mr. Huston cried aloud and said, "Held," in a manner most dramatic. The board held, and Mr. Huston wanted to know about Clerk Grosshans' bill. He didn't think the clerk should be absent once or twice and draw a full salary. The small salary of the clerk was not magnified in the eyes of the other members of the board, and they were not anxious to discuss it, but Mr. Huston held on like grim death. The clerk gave a quotation from law, and Mr. Huston replied with:

Was that meant for me?
Mr. Grosshans—No sir.

Mr. Huston—That was a very pointed remark, and since it has been inferred that I am not a good citizen, I shall insist that the rule adopted, taking $3 off the salary of the clerk each night he is absent, be enforced.

Mr. Purinton—The absence of the clerk once or twice is of no consequence. We should not be hidebound in this matter. We are all liable to be away. We are all mortal and must give and take. Mr. Grosshans does his duty faithfully and well.

Mr. Huston—He gets paid for coming here and we do not. I positively object to his being away. He must be here or suffer the consequences. The clerk before him was not present all the time, and I did his work while he got the pay. The board shall stand up to its rules or I will drop out. I will not stay in a board so easy as that. I won't have anyone stand up here and kick and throw out insinuations that I am not a good citizen. I don't like it; it gets my Scotch temper up.

Mr. Grosshans—I guess I can get along without this position; whatever may be the report of the committee will be my will.

Mr. Purinton—The bills were all O. K'd.

Mr. Huston—All right; I'll vote to pay them. I'll vote to give the clerk double the amount if necessary.

And here the squabble ended, leaving a very much amused board, with the exception of the one who was heated beneath the neckband. The board talked a moment about the meeting of the state board of health in January, and Mr. King announced that he would go, no matter who was appointed. The matter was left over for the next session and the board adjourned at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Huston complained loudly of the deceased dog which has been lying near the freight depot and demanded to know if officers could shoot canines and leave them lying until the odor became unbearable. The mayor suggested that he look to the health officer and the matter was dropped.

GENERAL LYON POST.

The Veterans Had a Very Enjoyable Time Last Night.

The Grand Army comrades assembled in force at the post room last night, and spent a richly enjoyable time, indulging in reminiscences of the days of Auld Lang Syne, when they were conversant with rich viands, commonly known as hard tack and sea horse, and when drill, tramp and camp were enjoyed and endured.

The following officers were elected to serve during the ensuing year: Post commander, J. C. Allison; senior vice, P. McCloskey; junior vice, John Pichal; quartermaster, Warren McChal; officer of the day, W. H. Surl; chaplain, George Morley; inside guard, R. Thomas; outside guard, Sardine Eoff; officer of the guard, R. Anderson; delegate to the state encampment, Thomas Todd.

General Lyon post is in first-class working condition, has a strong membership, finances are all right, and the comrades are taking deep interest in the organization, while the auxiliary, the Woman's Relief corps, is all that can be desired.

THEIR ANNIVERSARY.

The Rechabites Have a Large Audience.

The Rechabites celebrated their organization by an entertainment at the Grand last night, a large audience being in attendance. The program was made up of musical and elocutionary selections, and pleased the audience. S. C. Coleman stated that the program as printed in the News Review was not authoritative, and some confusion was the result. Then the chairman must have a double in the city, for a man, the living picture of Coleman, came to this office, represented himself as the chairman of the committee, and left the program as it appeared in this paper last night, asking that it be published. It certainly seems that if the program was not authoritative, Mr. Coleman has no one to blame but himself or his double. He should explain. It certainly seems that Mr. Coleman or some other persons have neglected their duty, and are attempting to lay the blame upon the News Review.

Their Troubles are Ended.

Lawrence Scott, the well known colored man, died last night from the result of injuries received a short time ago. An operation was performed in the hope of saving his life, but it availed nothing. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment being in Spring Grove cemetery.

Samuel Thomas, of West Market street, died this morning after a long battle with consumption. Deceased was a potter, and leaves a wife and 10 children. He was well known to a large circle of friends, who bestow their sympathy upon the bereaved wife and her family. Thomas was 38 years of age. Interment will be in Riverview cemetery at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

He Paid the Bill.

A youth from the country, who has been owing a physician in this city for some time, came to town today, and was in a barber shop when the doctor discovered his presence. The healer of wounds presented his bill, and when the youth refused to pay get along without some money with which to accomplish the work for which they were created. The duties of the Humane society are numerous.

THE SAME OLD GANG

Break Into Three Business Houses Last Night

ALL THE CASH THEY GOT

Would Not Buy the Usual Supply of Dime Novels G. W. Meredith Took $6.90—J. W. Geon and W. H. Frazier Visited by Sneak Thieves Last Night.

Last night the sneak thieves who have been plying their nefarious vocation in various parts of the city, broke loose after a vacation of a few days.

Three places were visited, but the thieves made poor hauls. They first visited Joseph W. Geon's saloon on the Midway and broke a pane of glass from one of the windows, evidently by a well-directed kick. It is thought that the noise they made frightened them away, or that they heard an officer approaching, as no trace of their having been inside could be found. When the proprietor arrived this morning pieces of broken glass were scattered about in the alley, and other indications were found which showed that a burglary had been attempted.

Not so fortunate was G. W. Meredith, a Market street saloonist. He was rather unpleasantly surprised this morning to find that the cash register in his place of business had been tapped for $6.90, all it contained, and that he would have to make repairs about the building in remembrance of a visit from unknown parties. The thieves in this case pried open a door in a shed leading to the saloon and then tried to gain an entrance to the bar room in the same manner. In this they were not entirely successful and a flunkier rather tedious work chose a quicker although more forcible manner. A few kicks administered to an inner door split a panel sufficiently to let the depreicators through. They secured the sum stated, but nothing else can be missed from the place.

The last time thieves entered the coal office of W. H. Frazier they got but little of value, but evidently believed that it was simply because they struck the wrong date. So they returned last night and satisfied themselves that although coal dealers are cartooned as billionaires in the winter season, there was no cash worth mentioning in this particular office. The front door was unlocked and in this way the thieves got inside. If they were broke when they entered they certainly were in the same financial condition when they departed, as nothing of value was missed. In neither of the three instances did the thieves leave any clue, but although they may imagine themselves secure they had better take warning. There will be a wholesale capture some of these days which will astonish even the natives.

THE HUMANE SOCIETY.

Why the Organization Wants Some Money.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—In a late issue of your paper we notice an inquiry as to why the Humane society stands in need of money. We take it for granted that your correspondent, "Manity," is interested in the success of the society, therefore we furnish you a financial statement of the society since its organization, and will endeavor to answer the inquiry. On March 19, 1894, the society was organized as the East Liverpool Humane society. On March 19, we received the certificate of incorporation from the secretary of state. At our next meeting, March 22, the society concluded that inasmuch as there had never been a county organization of the Humane society, we could be made more efficient if the organization was extended. Consequently, on March 24, Secretary of State S. M. Taylor issued a certificate of incorporation to the society as the Columbiana county Humane society, to prevent cruelty to children, aged persons and animals. Since our organization we have done much good work in the cause of humanity, but much more could have been done had the cases been brought before the society at the proper time and in the proper manner. There have been cases where old horses have been turned out to shift for themselves, but the ownership could not be proven, but in cases where we could fix the ownership we have dealt with the offender disposing of the horses. In some cases we could not proceed, as it cost from two to four dollars to dispose of the remains of a horse after being shot, and the society was out of funds. There is no society that can get along without some money with which to accomplish the work for which they were created. The duties of the Humane society are numerous.

We are called upon almost daily in different cases, in some of which we cannot act, being out of the line of our duty. It is true there is a law where costs can be recovered from the county, but that is in cases where the costs cannot be secured in any other way. We do not feel disposed to put the county to any unnecessary expense. The society should not be censured for not acting in cases where horses are allowed to run at large within the incorporate limits, and no action taken by the city officials. It is true that such cases can be reached by the Humane society in a shorter time than by the general law, provided we had funds to work with. Many citizens come to us with complaints and have not the nerve to stand up with evidence in the case. If we should undertake to show circumstances under which the society needs money, we would be compelled to ask too much space in the columns of your valuable paper. Our office is now fully equipped, in as good shape for work as any in the state of Ohio, except the necessary money, which we expect in the near future to call upon our citizens to contribute through some means not yet decided on.

Explaining further, Mr. Lloyd stated that the society had done much work which could not be made public. Husbands have been brought to know that they can not brutally beat their wives without punishment, and family quarrels have been satisfactorily settled. Homes have been found for friendless children, and the society is even now looking for other places where children can be placed. The financial statement shows that the organization needs money, and not one cent of compensation has ever been turned over to any of the officers. After doing all the work of the past nine months they have on hand at present, property to the value of almost $50, and the total receipts have not amounted to $65.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

Ex-Mayor George Morley Attacked Last Night.

George Morley, for two years mayor of the city, was stricken with paralysis last night. Mr. Morley, who served in the late war, was attending a meeting of General Lyon post, when it was noticed that he acted without his usual energy and vigor. When he attempted to rise, he almost fell, and as he walked home he staggered along the street. A physician was called, who at once pronounced the case paralysis, and showed that the gentleman was stricken on the left side. His voice was affected and it was only with difficulty that he could talk. Mr. Morley was permitted to sit up for a time this morning, but is being kept very quiet today. The physician hopes that with care he will recover and that there will be no recurrence of the dangerous attacks.

Wires Down.

The trolley wire on the electric line broke at Jethro this morning and passengers were transferred for a time. This break was no sooner fixed than word came from Walkers that the wires were down on the hill. Superintendent Andrews took a coil of new wire in No. 30 to the scene, while the cars played about the power house and switches in twos and threes in an agonizing manner. Through the hustling of the force it is expected that all will be lovely by 6 o'clock this evening at the farthest.

Killed in a Fight.

Special to the News Review.

POSTORIA, Dec. 8.—In a fight in a box car on the Baltimore and Ohio road at this place today two men were killed and one mortally wounded. The battle was started in a crowd of tramps, who had spent the night at the place, and after the conflict was over the murderers, numbering a half dozen, fled. The authorities everywhere have been notified.

Good Light Tonight.

Because of a break at the light plant all are lights on the western circuit have been dark for three nights, but they will be blazing tonight. A machine was out of order, and after several Pittsburg men had failed to find the cause a man was brought from Cincinnati who discovered it in a few minutes. More power is being added to the incandescent lights.

A Slight Accident.

Curtis Warner, an employe of Howard Kerr, is suffering with a badly mashed finger. He was introduced to the polishing machine and immediately found that there were cogs in it. He will be laid up several days.

DROVE HER FROM HOME

A Wellsville Woman's Tale of Woe.

HER HUSBAND KEPT THE SON

When He Closed the Door of His Home Against His Wife, and Now She Wants a Divorce With the Restoration of Her Maiden Name.

Special to the News Review.

NEW LISBON, Dec. 8.—The only case of importance filed here today was an action for divorce coming from Wellsville, that home of sensations and abrupt happenings.

This last individual to believe that marriage is a failure is Mrs. Blakely, who says in the petition that she was married in 1885 at Toronto to James H. Blakely. Then her name was Elizabeth M. Myers, and for a time they lived happily together. The change came in July of 1890 when James, she says, drove her from their home without any provocation whatever, and since that time he has refused to allow her to return although their son has been in possession during all these years. She not only wants an absolute divorce but believes she cannot get it without the name she originally wore.

Another Wellsville case is that of the Union Loan company against Percy Kessell asking that a mortgage for $561.90 be foreclosed. The case of George Cope against Alexander Bunting has been settled out of court.

Will Light by Electricity.

The village council of East Palestine has granted F. A. Sebring and G. E. Sebring the right to erect poles and construct lines for the purpose of lighting the town. Frank Sebring said this morning that they would erect a plant and begin as soon as possible to give the people of that darkened village electric light.

Need Clothing.

The poor people of Wellsville are in sore need of clothing, particularly the children of school age, who remain at home because they have nothing to wear. Poor Director Frasier is endeavoring to have the people give what clothing they have to the poor of Wellsville instead of contributing to out-of-town charities.

Mrs. Smith Is Angry.

Mrs. Smith is still in jail, and Mayor Gilbert has not received the amount of her fine. When she thinks of her troubles she becomes very angry, and the officers say she is prone to use language not becoming a lady, even though she is in jail. The woman has been in durance vile for weeks.

New Members.

Services at the Second United Presbyterian church East End last night were attended by a good sized crowd and Reverend Thompson delivered an excellent sermon. Services will be held again tonight and at the communion services tomorrow. Several people will unite with the church.

Captured a Trio.

J. W. Grant, of East End, returned today from a hunt on the farm of Samuel Javis near Wellsville, and had three unfortunate rabbits in his possession. He expects to bring the balance up on a street car, but whether a fare box or an entire coach will be used remains to be seen.

Reception For Doctor Huston.

Next Monday evening the official board of the First Methodist Episcopal church will give a reception at the church in honor of Doctor and Mrs. Huston. All the congregation and friends of the church are invited to be present and take a part in the pleasant event.

Prospering in Akron.

The Akron China company, made up of potters from this city, is prospering. Word from there today says that two additional kilns, a warehouse and an office will be built as soon as the contract can be let. The company has succeeded beyond the wildest hopes of the stockholders.

Went Over the Hill.

Dairymen Andrews team scared at a street car at the power house this morning and went over the hill. The wagon staid on the road but one of the horses hung with its feet in the air and had to be cut out of its harness. The damage was slight.

May Start Monday.

The management of the East End pottery have at last secured an engine, and will have it brought from Smith's Ferry today. It is thought that it can be placed in position and work will be started the first of next week, perhaps as early as Monday.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
OF OHIO.

THE Humane society explains its objects and aims very well in this issue of the NEWS REVIEW, and leaves no doubt that any money placed in the hands of its officials will be well spent.

TOLEDO wants the state convention, and Toledo should have it. For years it has been the custom of Republicans to nominate their state ticket at Columbus because it is centrally located,
and possesses no other advantage whatever. Toledo is far out of the way for the majority of the delegates,
but the Blade promises that the people are hospitable and possess enough of that public spirit required in the success of all such gatherings. Give Toledo a chance.

LET US HAVE PEACE.

The country wants peace. Since congress ceased agitating the question of reducing the tariff, and passed the abnormal monstrosity they call the Wilson bill, the people began to settle themselves to the system arranged by their erroneously-styled representatives, and business began to improve.
Prices of staples and labor dropped to the plane prepared in Washington, and although it was a bitter dose, the people swallowed it with as little grumbling as it was possible to produce. Business has steadily improved since that time, and the hope that there would be no more reduction in tariff brought about a revival which has been felt in every branch of industry. Now a few destructionists, whose constituents engaged in factories consist of a few blacksmiths and moonshiners, propose to further reduce duties and bring more calamity upon the people. Such men should be shelved at the earliest opportunity, and kept where their narrow mindedness will not work injury to the nation.

AN IMPROVEMENT.

The Massillon Independent wants a law that will keep every ignorant who has failed in other work, from cursing any community by his senseless newspaper effusions, and one that will prevent young men without suitable qualifications, from taking to journalism. The Independent has opened a field for discussion which will doubtless prove fertile, but it fails to remember that there are far too many lawyers in the Ohio legislature, who are opposed to look upon journalism as a profession, to ever hope for help in that direction. They have been taught to believe that the minister who looks after the soul, the doctor who looks after the body, and the lawyer who looks after the money, are the only men who have the slightest claim to recognition as professional. The newspaper man who toils early and late to keep his friends, the professional men, informed of everything that happens in their own as well as every other field on earth, can never appear anything but a drudge. And it would be a gigantic error to deprive any young man of employment because he cannot form a grammatical sentence or has forgotten what little he ever knew of orthography, they think. If the Independent can force sufficient strength to its side of the question, it will have done
a work worthy the efforts of a bright, enterprising newspaper.

DEATH OF DE LESSEPS.

The Noted Builder of Canals
Passes Away.

A NOTED BUT CLOUDED CAREER.

The Fame of His Earlier Years Darkened
In His Last Days—Built the Suez Canal.
The Panama Canal Scheme Brought Ruin and Disgrace.

PARIS, Dec. 8.—Count Ferdinand de Lesseps has died at Lachenay, near Vatan, in the department of L'Indre.
The life of Ferdinand de Lesseps which has just closed in a manner so pathetic as to partake almost of tragedy, had its rise, its high noon, its mellowed afternoon, its heavy cloud, its sunset and its midnight. The Paris correspondent of a large American newspaper syndicate, under date of Jan. 29, 1885, wrote: "The most popular man in France today is unquestionably Ferdinand de Lesseps. This is due to several causes. In the first place his life work—the stupendous Suez conception—has been a brilliant success. The world

VISCOUNT FERDINAND DE LESSEPS

which has not even one word of sympathy for him who fails, is ever ready to prostrate itself before him who triumphs.
But this worship of the 'great Frenchman,' as M. de Lesseps was generally called, is to be attributed more to the admirable traits of character of the man himself than to the merit of what he has done."

And yet but eight years later, or
Feb. 9, 1893, this same Ferdinand de Lesseps, who had been for years the idol of the French people, was sentenced to imprisonment for five years for the part he played in connection with the Panama canal loans. The unfortunate old man, stricken by the disgrace which had come upon him like a thunderbolt from a clear sky, and borne down by the weight of four score years and eight, gave way beneath the blow.

Viscount Ferdinand de Lesseps, G. S.
S. L., was born at Versailles, France, Nov. 19, 1805. In 1828 he entered the diplomatic service as an attaché of the consulate at Lisbon, and subsequently served in like positions elsewhere. He was consul at Barcelona in 1842, when that city was bombarded, and was zealous in the protection of the lives and property of French citizens and offered an asylum to Spaniards on board the vessels of the French fleet. He was among the first to urge the expediency of constructing a canal across the Isthmus of Suez, connecting the Mediterranean with the Red sea. After unremitting efforts for many years he obtained a firm from Said Pasha in 1854, and enlisting French and English capitalists, undertook the work, which was vigorously prosecuted to completion despite many obstacles that would have discouraged a less resolute man.

The victory of Egypt granted a concession in 1856. The practicability of the project was questioned by many of the most eminent engineers of the world,
and he was ridiculed all over Europe,
and especially by English engineers.
The work was begun in 1859. It soon commanded the attention of various governments, which subscribed liberally to the undertaking as the work progressed and its practicability became assured. The Turkish government tendered substantial help, but this was considered as an attempt to strengthen the political power of the porte in Egypt, and was resisted by the other powers interested, principally Great Britain and France. Work was suspended for a time on account of these complications, but finally the matter was submitted to arbitration and satisfactorily adjusted.
A canal of sufficient depth to admit of the passage of small steam vessels was opened Aug. 15, 1865, and by degrees the channel was deepened and enlarged so that small ships and schooners were enabled to pass through in March, 1867.

Aug. 15, 1869, the waters of the Mediterranean mingled with those of the Red sea, and the formal opening of the canal was celebrated with great pomp and rejoicing at Suez, and on Nov. 18,
the canal was formally opened to Port Said. Representatives of all the principal governments of Europe were present on this occasion, and the fetes were among the most imposing ever witnessed in modern times. A grand procession, mingled with those of the Red

ABUSED BY INDIANS.

An American Horribly Tortured by Cherokees.

HAS BEEN SENTENCED TO DEATH

For Selling Land, Which Is Treason Under Cherokee Laws—Being Fed on Bread and Water—The Appeals of Relatives and Friends Futile.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Dec. 8.—A story of atrocity smacking of the usages of a barbarian country comes from David, a small town in the interior of the Indian Territory. Colonel A. J. Blackwell, well known in the west, was arrested for selling land, and according to the Cherokee laws was sentenced to death for high treason. Since arrested he has not been allowed to even communicate with the outside world and has been fed upon bread and water.

The other day Blackwell, after being shaved and stripped of his clothes was brought before Chief Oahia, who was then holding a sub council, and asked to confess. Blackwell answered that he had no confession to make; that he was the victim of a malicious conspiracy and asked to be released. In stead he was carried bodily to the "needles," a place of torture adjoining the prison, and there he was submitted to treatment horrible in the extreme.

Ten bucks danced around their victim and each wielding a steel used for the purpose, jabbed the naked flesh of Blackwell. The tortures were kept up till Blackwell, bleeding and faint, sank to the ground. In this condition he was finally taken back to his former cell and remains in irons, hand and foot notwithstanding the fervent appeals of his relatives and friends.

What makes the case more complicated is the fact that Blackwell is a full blooded American and has no Cherokee blood in him, as has been stated.

The Case Against Ricks.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 8.—Arnold Green, the attorney of the Central Labor union, which brought the recently investigated charges against Judge A. J. Ricks of the United States district court, has completed his brief. In it he maintains that the proof offered shows that Judge Ricks illegally retained clerks' fees in the Birdsell cases to the amount of $1,555, and that he unlawfully retained as clerk's fees in other cases about $7,000. Mr. Green also declares that these sums are due the government and not Judge Ricks' successor as clerk.

Chinese Treaty Ratified.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The long-delayed Chinese treaty has at last arrived in Washington. It was delayed because the Chinese government, wishing to adopt every precaution, had dispatched the document to the United States by way of Europe instead of by the shorter Pacific route. Secretary Gresham and Mr. Yang Yu, the Chinese minister, have exchanged the final ratifications, and nothing now remains to be done but to promulgate the treaty, and it is expected the proclamation will follow in a day or two.

Plumb's Heirs Sued.

DENVER, Dec. 8.—Ex-United States Senator Steven W. Dorsey has brought suit in the district court against the heirs of the late Senator Plumb of Kansas to compel them to place the title of the Chicago mine in the Clear creek country in the name of the plaintiff. Dorsey said he advanced the money to purchase the property and until recently supposed that he was the undisputed owner.

A Chicago Janitor Murdered.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—The dead body of A. D. Barnes, janitor of the Hiawatha building at No. 258 Thirty-seventh street, has been found jammed into a package case which had been thrust into a hole beneath the sidewalk on South Park avenue. Between Sixty-third and Sixty-fourth streets. Two men are in custody charged with the crime, Edward J. Cline, the assistant janitor, and Lewis Jersey, a man of no occupation.

DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 8.—By the explosion of a gasoline stove, Mrs. David Pasky and her 1-year-old child were burned to death. Mr. Wasson, in an effort to save them, was dangerously burned.

The Doll Show Netting Thousands.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 8.—The doll show continues to draw great crowds. The proceeds, which are to go to the poor, will net many thousands of dollars.

Weather Forecast.

Rain; slightly warmer; southwest winds.

PITH OF THE NEWS.

The Earl of Oxford is dead in England. General Scammon is dead in New York. Thomas E. Proctor, president of the United States Leather company, is dead at Boston.

Eugene Kelley, head of the well-known bankinghouse of Eugene Kelley & Co., New York, is in a precarious condition.

Four men were probably fatally injured by an explosion of a dynamite cartridge in a "missed hole" of an old blast at Franklin park, Boston.

Three bodies were found at low tide in the forcastle of the sunken Provincetown schooner, Gracie Benson, at Boston.

Two killed, one maimed for life and two badly wounded is the result of a pitched battle caused by whisky in Oklahoma.

New indictments will likely be returned against Captain Howgate in Washington.

The hearing of the charges against District Attorney Fellows was finished in New York. The findings are to be submitted to Governor Flower.

Eight people were overcome by gas from a coal stove at St. Paul. Two may die.

The faculty of the University of Pennsylvania have challenged the Yale Athletic association to substantiate the charges of professionalism hinted at broadly recently against the football players of the Pennsylvania eleven.

Schaefer not only defeated Ives at Chicago, but managed to gain 944 points upon his opponent, putting his total score at 3,375, while that of Ives is 3,000.

PAINTERS AND DECORATORS.

The Convention at Cleveland Formulates a Platform.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 8.—The Painters and Decorators' convention has adopted a platform which calls for the following compulsory education; direct legislation; legal eight hour work day; sanitary inspection of workshops, mines and homes; liability of employers for injury to health, body and life; abolition of the sweating system; municipal ownership of electric light and gas plants for public distribution of light and power; nationalization of telegraph, telephone, railroads and mines; principle of referendum in all legislative bodies.

It now remains for the various local organizations to take up the platform and report back to the main body, after which it will be fully adopted.

It was decided to remove the headquarters of the association from Baltimore. The new headquarters have not been determined upon, but it will probably rest between Cleveland and Cincinnati, both of which cities have made bids.

Money For Nursing Her Uncle.

NORWALK, O., Dec. 8.—Lena B. Collins brought suit in Huron county against the Berry estate to recover $2,600 for wages for nursing and keeping house for her bachelor uncle, Thomas Berry, who passed away last week. The uncle was paralyzed during the last three years of his life, and the girl resided with the uncle under promise that she would be provided for in the will which he would leave. As soon as he died the heirs began a scramble for the old man's wealth, in which the girl's claim was lost sight of. The case was tried at Norwalk, the jury bringing a verdict for $1,400 for the girl. The Berry estate is valued at $70,000.

No Changes on the Lake Shore.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 8.—President Childwell of the Lake Shore and Nickel Plate roads has returned from New York where he had been attending the monthly meeting of the presidents of the various roads. In answer to a question concerning the rumors of contemplated changes among Lake Shore officials, he said: "There are no changes to be made. These stories have been published without authority, and were entirely without foundation. The statement that there is to be a new general manager, to be appointed, is also untrue."

Superintendent Bahr After Him.

TOLEDO, Dec. 8.—Superintendent of Insurance Bahr, Assistant Fletcher and their attorney, W. W. Skiles, are in Toledo to investigate charges that have been quietly preferred against a prominent agent and writer, J. A. Duffy. Attorney Skiles was here some time ago collecting evidence. Duffy's office, as charged in the affidavit, consisted in writing policies for the Guaranty Life's Accident company, a concern having no authority to do business in Ohio. The maximum penalty for the offense in Ohio is a fine of $1,000 and six months' imprisonment.

Hunting a Missing Daughter.

TOLEDO, O., Dec. 8.—John Walker, a Paulding county farmer, is in the city looking for a missing daughter. She is 20 years old, and came here last April. Mr. Walker has received a letter from Napoleon, in which he was told that his daughter committed suicide in Toledo four weeks ago. The coroner knows of no such suicide. Traces of the girl have been found, but the authorities are unable to secure any recent clew.

Defendant in an Unusual Case.

LANCASTER, O., Dec. 8.—Steward C. G. Hillis of the Boys' Industrial school has been made defendant in rather an unusual case. During the partnership of Dennis & Bowling, millers, Mill Hillis bought $288.55 worth of supplies for the institution. Steward, but as each claimed the money, the steward refused to settle until satisfactory receipt could be obtained. Each of the ex-partners has now brought suit to compel payment.

MEN'S ERRORS IN DRESS.

A Young Woman of Observation Says That Such Solecisms Are Common.

"It is surprising," said a young woman of observation, "how near some of you men fellows come to being properly dressed and don't quite get there. I've heard a good deal of talk and read a good deal of writing about the fine art of dressing well, but my idea is that it's just a question of the preservation of the entities. It's just like apple sauce with roast pork and currant jelly with canvasback duck—the proper thing goes with the proper thing. Yet a man may be letter perfect in his condiments, or may have a fit at seeing a water color in a velvet frame, and still wear a silk hat and a sack coat. Oh, you needn't laugh. I've seen it, not only on Broadway on a Saturday night, but I have seen it on Fifth avenue on a Sunday morning. Yes, and worse than that. I saw one young fellow going to church with two swell girls, he wearing a black silk hat and a brown sack suit. Now, do you know I call that impious."

"There are two other sins of attire that men are often guilty of—one a sin of commission, wearing an overcoat with a straw hat, and the other a sin of omission, wearing an overcoat and no gloves. These things are done all the time in their season, and yet you sinners in costume think it a good joke to see a woman in white gloves and a mackintosh—and so it is."

"There's another thing you men get woefully mixed up over—spats and gaiters. Any fool girl knows that the gaiter is used for warmth, and therefore is a part of a winter costume, while the spat is designed as an article for summer attire to keep the bottom of the light trousers from being soiled by black shoes. It is quite as awful a solecism to wear spats with dark trousers as it is to wear a gaiter over a tan shoe, yet both are committed constantly here in New York, and by men who ought to be ashamed of themselves for not knowing or not doing better."

"And, talking of tan shoes, you never will convince me that it's either correct or convenient to wear tan shoes in winter or in stormy weather. That's the time for rubbers, and goloshes over tan shoes are an incongruity that gives me the horrors. It's the same sort of debased taste that leads a man to peril his soft palate by using a cigar holder, or that leads him to outrage decency by sticking a cravat pin in a sailor's knot. And don't think for one instant that all the rest of us don't observe these things just as I do. If a man's dress is trig and trim from top to toe we admire him, even if he's as homely as sin—that is, as sin is supposed to be—but if he mixes the seasons or falls down in the nicest details of completeness we have our little sneer at him after he's gone, even though he's as good looking as you'd like to be."—New York Sun.

CHARLOTTE TEMPLE'S GRAVE.

The Most Popular Spot in Trinity Churchyard, New York.

A few days ago passersby in Brooklyn, looking through the high fence that surrounds Trinity churchyard, saw a slender black gown girl kneeling by the grave of Charlotte Temple. Her head was bowed in her hands, and she seemed utterly lost to her surroundings. After awhile she arose with a very pale face, walked swiftly through the gates and disappeared in the crowd. She was only one of many devotees at the shrine of the poor girl who died for love. Nobody ever visits Trinity churchyard without pausing for a few minutes before the big brown slab that bears only the name "Charlotte Temple."

"Oh, yes!" said the gray haired old man whose duty it is to see that the ancient tombs are kept in order. "It is the most popular grave in the yard. I have been here going on 17 years now, and there have been very few days in good weather when the grave has not had a visitor. Several times I have seen women come here and stand in the cold and sleet and snow looking at the tomb. Somehow they always look as if they were in trouble."

"Seven or eight years ago I began to put potted flowers, geraniums and the like on the grave, and I have kept it up every summer since. It is mainly to mark the grave, so that visitors can find it. It is the only grave in the yard that has flowers on it. Otherwise the people would bother me to death. When they ask me where the grave of Charlotte Temple is now, I simply tell them that it is over on the west side with some potted flowers on it. That saves me a deal of trouble."

"Several of the gravestones are crumbling badly and will have to be repaired if the descendants of the dead want to perpetuate their memory. See, here is the oldest grave in the place."

Then the old man swept away a layer of dust from a crumbling gray stone and showed the date, 1681. "We have several that date almost as far back," said he, "but none of them is so popular as that of Charlotte Temple."

Then the ancient attendant tucked his brow under his arm, picked up his wheelbarrow and trundled away among the graves.—New York Herald.

BEAUTIFUL MOUNTAIN PEAKS.

Ranier, Shasta, Hood and Other Fine Mountains of the Far Northwest.

About 50 miles south of Tacoma you get a view of the most beautiful mountain peak on the earth's surface, Mount Tacoma, or Ranier, and carry it with you for three or four hours. It rises directly from the tide level to a height of 14,444 feet, unhidden by intervening ranges or foothills, and stands squarely against the sky, the perfection of magnificence, dignity and power. It is two and one-half times as high as Mount Washington, and I believe the highest peak in the world that rises directly from a plain. It is known to us in the east as Mount Ranier and was so called in honor of Admiral Ranier of the British navy, but here they call it Mount Tacoma, the old title given by the Siwash Indians before the white man came. The base is covered with a dense forest of ever living green. Above the timber line the snow is white and smooth and perpetual, and it looks as if it were a solid block of the purest marble.

Mount Tacoma is just two feet higher than Mount Shasta, 297 feet higher than Pike's peak and 400 feet higher than Gardner's peak. The highest in the United States, Mount Crillon, Alaska, is over 16,000, but an exact measurement has never been taken. Mount St. Elias, Alaska, is 15,327; Mount Whitney, California, is 15,088, and Mount Williams, California, is 14,400.

There are several other very beautiful peaks visible from the railway, including St. Helen, 9,750 feet, the patron saint of Portland, around whose head hangs a perpetual halo; Mount Hood, which is a shapely cone, 11,225 feet, which was named in honor of Lord Hood of the British admiralty, and Mount Baker, 10,800 feet, christened in honor of Joseph Baker, one of the lieutenants of Peter Puget, who discovered the sound. Theodore Winthrop has written lovingly about them, and they are the subject of the purest and choicest descriptions that exist in the classic prose of Washington Irving, although I believe he was never nearer them than his home on the Hudson river, 3,600 miles away.—Chicago Record.

The Romance of a Watch.

Rossini's watch, which has recently been sold at Bologna to a rich English man whose name is not mentioned, has a history. In 1824 Charles X presented the composer with a repeating watch, studded with diamonds, and playing two of Rossini's melodies. Nobody in Bologna could clean the watch, so it was sent in the care of the tontor Fabiano to Paris, where it was destroyed in a fire. Plivoe, the watchmaker, thereupon made a second watch, the exact counterpart of the first, except that the diamonds were false, and Rossini, who never discovered this pious fraud, wore the trinket all his life. On his death it passed to a relative, whose son
